“ I'm so sad that such a young man lost his life so soon. Lord please wrap your arms around the family and comfort them in this very difficult time! I was there when Brandon was born and although we have not been close I will remember that day forever! Rest in peace young man and hold your babyboy in your arms forever!

Sharolyn quinn - June 30, 2019 at 12:00 AM

“ Brandon, Brandon there's so much I'd love to say. I have always thought about you. I can see you in the kitchen washing dishes or I can still see you riding your bike with the motor on it down the road. I remember all the times I would take/pick you up from work. I remember the day you used my truck to get your drivers license and how happy you was. I can still hear you, Dennis and Audrey fighting over who was going to drive my truck when y'all was going some where. There are so many memories. Some good and some not. We butted heads some times but it's no different than with any of the other kids and that's what families do but then you move past it. God brought you in to my life for a reason has he did every ones life you have touched but your work on earth was done and now God needs you in heaven. We will never understand why God took you and your son at such a young age but it's not for us to know. We should never question God. So in closing let me say from my family we are sadden because of this and you will truly be missed by so many family and friends so watch over us all and be our guardian angel. Fly high my dearest Brandon You will always be in our hearts Love you my angel Nana aka Mary Coffman
